

How to reduce your furry friend's

Carbon Paw Print

By Anna Beresford-Smith

We all know the importance of reducing our own carbon footprint, but what about that of our furry friends? According to two New Zealand researchers, your beloved pet has twice the carbon footprint of a Toyota Land Cruiser¹. We all know that the bigger our carbon footprint, the more we are contributing to our climate change problem, so see below for eco-friendly products for your pooch, and help reduce their carbon paw print. HOME

1: 'Time to Eat the Dog: The real guide to sustainable living' by Robert and Brenda Vale.

Out & About in Style

The award-winning DOOG Walkie Belt comes with everything you need for your dog walk. It sits neatly and tightly on your hips so you hardly know you are wearing it, making it a great accessory for running and exercising with your dog. Each belt comes with strawberry scented and biodegradable tidy bags that pull out of the front pocket of the belt like tissues. It also comes with an iPod holder, an attachment for your dog's lead, a tennis ball holder, and even boasts antibacterial hand wipes!

www.doog.com.au

The House of Quiet

Did you know that barking dogs are the biggest source of noise complaints? Teach your (or your neighbour's!) dog to stop the annoying habit with the Ultrasonic Outdoor Bark House, a discreet unit that releases a safe, high-pitched sound (inaudible to humans) every time a bark is detected within 15 metres.

www.thedogline.com.au

1300 THE DOG (1300 843 364)

SPECIAL OFFER!

$15 off for HOME readers

Just enter 'HOME21' promotional code at checkout.

Bathe Naturally

Lessen your canine friend's impact on the environment by choosing eco-friendly products. Naturally Wagging is an online boutique specialising in 100% natural homemade care products that do not contain sulphates or detergents, thus lessening the impact on waterways when you give your best friend a bath. The natural oils contained in the products will complement your furry friend's skin and enhance their wellbeing, and all the packaging is minimal and recyclable.

1300 310 633 | www.naturallywagging.com.au

Water on the Go

Pamper your pooch with the latest in designer gear with the innovative popware for pets by Dexas. Featuring a unique pop-up and pop-down design plus hard wearing silicone, the range is super stylish, totally convenient and ready to go. The collapsible range makes travel easy and the travel cups can latch onto leashes, backpacks or belt loops, and eliminate the need to carry water containers while out and about.

1300 364 474 | www.dexas.com.au